

University of Toronto
Faculty of Music

THURSDAY AFTERNOON SERIES

ORFORD STRING QUARTET

AND

JOSEPH MACEROLLO, Accordion

Concert Hall, Edward Johnson Building, Thursday, April 10th, 1969

at 2 p.m.

PROGRAMME

Quartet, Op. 74
Poco adagio - allegro
Adagio ma non troppo
Presto
Allegretto con variazioni

Beethoven

Quintet for Accordion and Strings, Op. 22
Agitato
Andante calmato
Con moto

James Wilson

Andrew Dawes, violin
Kenneth Perkins, violin
Joseph Macerollo, accordion
Terence Helmer, viola
Marcel St. Cyr, cello

Mr. James Wilson is an English composer who lives in Dublin and has written music in many forms and for many combinations, a great deal of which is heard on the Dublin Radio.

The Accordion Quintet, was commissioned by Morgens Ellegaard, the famous Danish accordionist and has been played and broadcast by him a great deal in Europe. This will be its first North American performance.